

To request an exception to an NCCC bookstore policy, individuals may submit a written appeal to the Bookstore Coordinator at bookstore@neosho.edu

Emails from student email accounts are considered written appeals. If the appeal is denied by the Bookstore Coordinator, the student may appeal on to the Chief Financial Officer (CFO). The decision of the CFO is final.

Policy exceptions will be considered based on school error or unusual and special personal circumstances experienced by the student that prevented the student from complying with policy.
